Geo. Simpson, Secy-Treas.

From Bachelor to Benedict

A pleasing event occurred at the residence of Mr. Pitt, foreman machinist C.P.R., Nelson, B. C., in which his daughter, Adelaide, from the staff of the Telephone Exchange, was wedded to Mr. R. S. Breton of the firm of Breton & Simons of this town. The local Methodist minister tied the knot in the presence of the many friends of the contracting couple. As the groom had been engaged in business in the town of Nelson prior to removing to this town a few months ago, many of his own particular friends were invited to see him embark on the matrimonial sea. They came generously supplied with rice and old shoes and when the serious part of the ceremony was over the bride and groom were leaving for the best of showers of rice and old shoes manifested in a hearty manner the congratulations of the guests. Many beautiful presents were given the happy couple, who left for Claresholm Monday night. They have taken up residence in the house lately occupied by Mr. Ed. Price where in the time Mrs. Breton will be at home to the ladies.

Ministers Set Aside

Truly Sept. 21st was an evil day for church ministers. The Hon. Wm. Patterson, Minister of Customs, in Brant, Ont.; Hon. G. P. Graham, Minister of Railways and Canals, in Brockville, Ont.; the Hon. W. L. McKenzie King, Minister of Labor, in St. Waterloo; the Hon. Wm. Thompson, Minister of Indian Revenue, in Victoria, B. C.; the Hon. W. S. Fielding, Minister of Finance, in St. John's, and Queen's, N. S.; and the Hon. Frederick W. Benson, Minister of Militia and Defense, in Kings, N. S.; all went down to defeat so far as reports received at this time are concerned. The defeat of the Conservative leader R. L. Borden, in Halifax, N. S., is also reported.

A Change in Dates

In last weeks issue we announced that a competition would be held by the Choral Society on the 6th of October. This date has been changed and the competition will now be held on Tuesday, October 3rd in the school auditorium. The change in dates was made necessary on account of Madam Alice Neilson coming to Calgary on Thursday, October 5th. Further information can be obtained from Mrs. Steeves or the secretary of the society, Mrs. J. F. Miller.

Claresholm Art Studio.

Mr. J. L. Edmund wishes to announce that for a few weeks he will be in the District taking Photos of Farms and Buildings and will not be at his Studio on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of each week. The Studio will, however, be open for orders, developing and printing for amateurs, etc. Parties wishing him to call and take views for them will please call or write him and make appointments.

Rompain-Leader

On Wednesday, September 6th, at the home of the bride's parents in Depuey, Mont., a very pretty wedding occurred when Miss Edith Aegre Leader, youngest daughter of Mr. W. A. Leader, became the bride of Mr. Chas. R. Romaine of Claresholm. The bride is well known here, having spent several years in the town and district, and the groom has been a resident of Claresholm for so long that he needs no introduction. The ceremony was solemnized by the Rev. Mr. Hunt, of the Methodist church in Depuey, and the happy couple arrived in Claresholm on the 9th, where they will reside. The many friends of the young couple wish them many years of happiness and a smooth journey through life.

Knights, Attention!

Divine services of the Knights of Pythias will be held in the Presbyterian church on Sunday evening, September 24th. All members of the order are requested to report at the lodge room at 6:30 p.m. on that date, and proceed in marching order to the church. Visiting Brothers are especially invited to attend. By order of the C.C., V. A. Porter.

High River Fair

A very tastily gotten-up announcement came to hand the other day, heralding the approach of the High River Fair, October 12th and 13th. Prizes are offered in over four hundred classes. An excellent program of racing events, divided between both days provides for 12 races. Eight open athletic events are scheduled. The cover design of the prize list is most appropriate and attractive.

Let Down Easy

A large crowd assembled last night (Thursday) in the D.O.E. hall to receive the election returns furnished by a C.P.R. Bulletin service. A most good natured crowd it was, cheering the Conservative victories which preponderated so much that the Liberals were compelled to kick up a little noise now and again or pick themselves to see if they were dreaming. Fifteen years waiting for revenge was amply repaid by the opportunity given the Conservatives and we Liberals simply had to take our medicine. We are glad the meeting was entirely devoid of any minor and only the most good natured "pushing" took place. The serious given by the C.P.R. was a good one and its return came in reply the whole story was told by 11 p.m. and the audience dispersed.

An Unfortunate Fall

On Wednesday evening, an accident occurred to a prominent farmer living out from Claresholm east and north about nine miles, which was attended by most serious results. Eric Gable left town on that evening to return to his home. In getting out of his wagon at his home he placed his weight on the end of a long board which he had been using for a seat and which projected over the side of the wagon box. He was thrown to the ground striking on his head and shoulders. He was carried into the house and medical aid summoned. Upon examination, Dr. C. R. Gern found Mr. Gable paralyzed from his shoulders down, indicating serious injury. Dr. McCallum of Calgary was called into consultation and it is reported that the condition of the patient is as favorable as could be expected and Mr. Gable has a chance for life.

FARMERS List With Us at OnceLocal Address Box 39 Claresholm, Alta.*Famine In Twine

The famine in blunder twine is becoming acute. All the dealers in twine are sold out and there is scarcely a pound in sight to supply the crying demand. It is estimated that several car-loads would be required to fill the orders already on hand.

The scarcity, which prevails all over Southern Alberta, is due to the crops being so much heavier than was anticipated. In some fields five pounds of twine per acre is being required to bind the crops whereas two and a half pounds is the average.

Wholesale dealers and manufacturers have also been caught and the situation is serious.

Some of the dealers blame the farmers for not putting in their orders earlier and the farmers, on the other hand, say that they could not be expected to order a lot of twine in advance, before they knew what their crop was going to be.

Blunder twine is a cash article from the wholesalers and will not stand storage from one year to the next. Between these two aspects of the case it can be seen that neither party is really to blame. It is the unexpectedly heavy crop which has brought this state of things to pass.

There is now no time to bring on twine from the factories in the east. A little is procurable from Winnipeg and Calgary but it is not half enough. It may be necessary to cut some of the grain without binding it, tying it up by hand in the old fashioned way. This will entail an immense amount of labor but otherwise the crop would be lost.

About 10 cars of twine have been handled so far this season by the local dealers. They would like nearly half as much again—Mueland advertises.

Carmangay Fair

Of the new towns in Southern Alberta Carmangay is considered one of the leaders, and their claim to that position was justified yesterday by excellent agricultural exhibition under the auspices of the Carmangay Agricultural Society. Their fair this year was the first that has ever been held in that district, and it is surprising the interest which was taken in the enterprise. The exhibition was conducted as smoothly as though the Society had been in existence for several years, the only handicap being the lack of suitable accommodation for the exhibits. This will be remedied before another year as the success of this exhibition will mean a great boost for the Society in Carmangay. Great credit is due President Hummon, Secretary Wilson and the directors of the exhibition for the success of the fair, and Carmangay is lucky to have such men at the head of its affairs.

One of the noticeable features of the exhibition was the number of exhibits made by the old timers of the district. Many of these men believed a few years ago that the Carmangay district would never be anything but a ranching country, and scoffed at the idea of ever putting a hand to the plow. But to these very same men is due a very great deal of the success of the exhibition, and they have proved beyond any doubt that Carmangay is one of the best dry farming districts in the world.

Probably the most striking feature of the fair was the fine display of vegetables. Visitors from Lethbridge are unanimous in saying that they never saw a finer display of garden products in Southern Alberta, in either irrigated or dry farming districts. The home-made products were also very much in evidence, and the good housewives of Carmangay showed that they ranked second to none in this department. The grain exhibits were all good though not as large as might be expected, on account of the fact that very little threshing has yet been done in the district.

In live stock, too, the Carmangay fair deserves special mention. Good buildings have been provided for the stock and the exhibits in the draft and saddle horse classes were large and of excellent quality.

During the day several attractions provided amusement for the large crowds. The horse races and ball game were the chief features in this particular department. The wind tended to spoil the amusements to some degree, but all were run off as scheduled and the management showed that it was capable of taking care of a much larger fair next year.

Some trouble was experienced through the blowing down of the large exhibition tent, but this was overcome by moving the exhibits to the school. Next year the association hopes to have a large permanent exhibit building and the Carmangay fair will then assume the status to which it is entitled.

About 75 visitors from Lethbridge took advantage of the special train to visit the fair, and all are loud in their praises of Carmangay's first fair, and say that the Carmangay people have shown their faith in their district in a way which would be a credit to a district much older than the Carmangay district. All report a good time as the management did all in their power to make the day a pleasant one for everybody. Secretary Manwaring, of the Board of Trade informed the Herald this morning that the exhibits were so good that he induced many of the farmers of the district to send in individual exhibits to the Dry Farming Congress at Colorado Springs. These exhibits will be looked after by the local Board of Trade for the Carmangay people—Lethbridge Herald.

The September Rod and Gun

The large and ever growing army of game bird hunters will find ample variety in stories dealing with their favorite recreation in the September issue of Rod and Gun in Canada, published by W. J. Taylor, Limited, of Woodstock, Ontario. From Newfoundland to British Columbia is a wide range and all is included in this one number, the differences in the sport enjoyed in the various Provinces being pleasantly conveyed in a series of stories dealing with actual occurrences in the field. Further variety is given by the fine illustrated story of the Cruise of the Papoose, a camping story, and some excellent verses. Geese, ducks and prairie chickens afford the very best of sport and their devotees tell of the complete enjoyment experienced in a way to make their conferees resolve to make similar trips with the same object in view. Wing shooting is a sportsmanlike occupation and with only fair conservation there should be ample opportunities for all sportsmen in Canada to enjoy some of this fine recreation for an indefinite time to come. A market did not afford us a place for more interesting number of this fine Magazine has never been issued.

Settled Off Hand

The Epworth League of the Methodist Church, had a very interesting programme to offer last Monday evening. The premier feature was a debate on the subject: Resolved that Reciprocity with the United States would be beneficial to Canada. The affirmative was asserted by Messrs. Jas. McKinney and D. M. England, while the negative was supported by Messrs. W. Laidenfield and C. Todd. G. E. Devereaux, secretary of the League, was master of ceremonies and without further delay, after announcing the subject of the debate and the time limit of the speeches, introduced the leader of the affirmative, J. McKinney.

He argued that such an artificial boundary line was unnatural and it was expensive to maintain officials to protect it; that our virgin resources must be developed and that a high tariff wall operated to check the inflow of capital to develop same; from a local Western standpoint we need wider markets for our grain products. In support of his first point he argued that a man was entitled to sell to his neighbor what his neighbor wanted even though an imaginary boundary line intervened. He instanced the opportunities for graft on the part of the officials who were appointed to enforce this unnatural division. In support of his second contention the speaker called attention to the fact that the value of natural resources depended on the extent to which they are developed. Our vast supplies of coal represented no value till opened up and sold; our other minerals likewise; and we require a way opened up whereby we get our resources out and money in. The working of enough mines to supply local demand is not enough. Our wheat production was compared to our market outlet, and statistics were given to show that if our British market was closed a large supply still had to be disposed of. Conditions gave our No. 1 hard market with millers but the softer wheat was able to sell in the open markets where the No. 1 hard grade was unnecessary. The British market did not afford us a place for all our superior grades.

The leader of the opposition, Mr. W. Laidenfield, advanced the argument that reciprocity was not limited to the U.S. but opened up our markets to the influx from twelve other countries, and that reciprocity opened to us but the one market, viz. U.S. He argued that our horses and cattle were not up to the standard of blue-grass horses and corn-fed cattle and consequently there would be an influx of American live-stock. Our pulpwood is in demand so why should we allow the U.S. manufacturer to secure what they needed and then outsell us in paper, a manufactured and protected product of our pulpwood areas. To remove the tariff wall is to let down the bars and admit U.S. cattle to our pastures. In cattle we cannot contend with America. We should preserve the nation idea and keep up our standards.

Mr. England, who followed, argued that the goods that would be brought in are those not produced in Canada. To keep our produce is not a business ideal. To sell in the highest market is a business advantage. Sell and produce more. If a producer can sell his produce it gives him an incentive to increase his production. Immigration is very great. We must have larger markets. Capital is attracted to those parts only where selling travels on the heels of production. If the American producer gets good prices, why not the Canadian producer.

To sell to our next door neighbor is more advantageous than to ship to more distant parts. If American farmers oppose it is proof reciprocity is good for Canadians. Farmers' delegation to Ottawa demanding reciprocal trade indicates the farmers' attitude toward the big market to the south. The natural interchange lies between latitudes rather than longitudes unless unevenness of population effect the interchange.

C. Todd supported W. Laidenfield and argued from a sectional standpoint that horses brought a higher price in Alberta than in Montana. He said U.S. felt that unless they gave Canada some offer of reciprocity now the opportunity was lost forever and quoted purports from the open markets where the No. 1 hard grade was unnecessary. The British

Mr. McKinney replied dealing mainly with disproving the argument that U.S. had any advantage over Canada in the horse production and also assailed the Argentine Republic arguments by pointing out the advantage to this country in competing with United States in England as compared with a competition in Canada itself. The leader of the negative in reply raised the sheep market and claimed the chilled meat industry of Argentina would glut Canadian markets. He argued too that a removal of duties on natural products would not be as valuable as a removal of duties on manufactured articles.

The critic, Rev. Wm. McNiel, wanted the privilege of plain speaking and criticized Mr. McKinney on the use of meaningless gesticulation but applauded his extempore method and his direct appeal to the audience. In criticism of Mr. Laidenfield, the critic noted a few platform manner but his misadvised remarks from the fearfulness of his remarks. The judges were the ones to impress not the audience. Mr. England, according to the critic, displayed nervousness but would make good as a public speaker when this was overcome. Slavish dependence on notes weakens the power and influence of a speaker. In general Mr. McNiel urged individual thinking and when one's conviction is established do not be enticed from these by specious appeals.

The judges were Messrs Crumby, Goetz and B. K. Harrison. Their unanimous decision was given in favor of the affirmative.

Miss Doris Broome entertained the gathering with a recitation and Miss Goetz sang and the pleasantly and profitably spent evening was at a close. The lecture room of the church was well filled.

A Decisive Vote

Latest supposedly authentic returns of the election yesterday give the opposition 122 seats and the Liberals 80. This gives the Conservatives an overwhelming strong position as it will make them independent of the Quebec Nationalists and all independent support.
